

I fully support XM Radio and all of their programing. The reason I went with XM was because the "free" radio plays the same "crap" everyday. I got so bad that I didn't even listen to the radio anymore. Now I don't watch TV. XM is on all of the time in my house hold. I pay for this service and I don't think it is fair or right for anyone to tell me what I want to listen to or tell XM or the other satellite service what they can prodcast. Tell NAB to take a hike and leave XM alone.

Respectfully,

GJ Beach